

We need your help! Volunteer to assist Anne Arundel County Public Schools create schools-within-schools called clusters, based on broad career areas. Members of Cluster Resource Boards will provide information about careers, talk with students and teachers about their work and training, and provide real-life examples from the workplace to illustrate concepts in the curriculum. Active members volunteer to attend meetings, perhaps four per year, and on-call members may be asked to review documents, provide feedback or help on one-time activities.
