Book	Availability	Summary
		Marley Dias, the powerhouse girl-wonder who started the #1000blackgirlbooks campaign, speaks to kids about her passion for making our world a better place, and how to make their dreams come true!
		Amy Anne Ollinger tried to check out a book from her school library only to find out the book has been banned. So she starts a "banned book" library from her locker, which becomes wildly popular. She is then thrust into a battle over censorship with her school.
		Middle schooler Molly Frost starts a podcast in protest of her school's unfair dress code policies, which disproportionately affect young girls, especially those with curvy bodies. When her podcast gains notoriety, she faces not only bullying, but also the scrutiny of the local school board.
		Jaime Rivera is an undocumented teen who came to the United States from Guatemala hoping for a better life. While his cousin, Angela, seems to fit in at school quickly, Jaime struggles and wishes to be with his family in his native country. Jaime sketches his observations in his sketchbook and finds hope in a few unexpected allies.
