Fitness Friday walking

April Self Care will continue to send out tips and resources for Staff self care on a monthly slide deck. We will encourage staff to check out our workout sessions in the google class.

Guys in Ties are doing well. Students are attending and participating in conversation. The recent topic is leadership and guest was invited to discuss the topic. Guest speakers will continue to be invited this month for that topic and other topic.

Latasha Savoy
Van Bokkelen Elementary School

We do motivational Monday’s and wellness/workout Wednesdays on the morning announcements. We have our monthly fitness calendar that is distributed to all students. Our PTA puts rec sports sign up opportunities in their blast email every week. Second Step lessons are incorporated for social emotional learning. We do movement activities during the mid day block for hybrid learners.

<td>We initiated a Wellness Wall for teachers and staff this month. Teachers and staff are able to visit the wall for healthy recipes, meditation, short workouts, and a walking log. We have continued to have teachers and staff record themselves preparing healthy snacks to share on the WCES Morning Announcements. Students also share stretches on the morning announcements. We had a family fitness night in March and are having another event this month for families to unplug to create Earth Day activities for the wellness of our planet. Students and their families will choose to paint kindness rocks, use recycled materials to make a bird feeder, relax and unwind with a book related to Earth Day read by our media specialist, plant seeds, or make a poster to educate others about environmental awareness. We are linking this to our own wellness because research shows spending time outside in nature brings a sense of calm and reduces stress. We want to encourage our staff and students/families to destress, unwind, and enjoy all Earth has to offer.</td>

kindness, encouragement, support or acknowledgment of staff supporting since we have been in person. Through our SPC, then distributed out to staff for them to post and decorate a space with their bucket.  Buddies are back!  Use to promote “outside of your IDT” connections this year we gave the opportunity for staff to choose their buddies and others would be assigned. Due to having staff in and out of the building this way was a way to unite our community while feeling apart. Teacher “feel good” raffle: treats, hand sanitizers, tissues, coffee mugs, candy, etc.  Just confirmed to bring back our “hoop for the Heart” (WITWIFA) encouraging staff to take Adam with them and picture.  We hope to carry this into the summer continuity spirit.

Crenk Middle School

We have a staff Google Classroom that every teacher has access to.  We post monthly fitness challenges.  tips on meditation, how to workout with an injury, running training plans and tons of workout ideas.  We also have articles that help beginners and an entire section devoted to sharing healthy meals. We post weekly tips on mindfulness. During the winter months, we would email the staff with a new workout to try during the week. Our community includes monthly fitness challenges.  We started doing this in December.  Many of our staff members would follow these challenges and we had a lot of great feedback. We give Kudos each week to staff members that we are thankful for and want to highlight kind things that are doing in our school.

Crofton Middle

Flexible Friday.  Yoga at 8:00 am. Summer Exercise Monday at 10:15 to 11:00 am.  Spreading Sunshine (card to co-workers).  Staff can be seen walking the campus during their lunch or planning. Staff get weekly wellness

Monthly/100-mile challenge for students and staff to share positive shoutouts to friends/teachers and to share artwork/photos/craftive projects on morning announcements. Weekly lessons on mindfulness. Counseling corner every Friday for students to drop in and share any concerns.

Brooklyn Park Middle School

Students receive regular email messages that include mindfulness, yoga, and other wellness choices if they do not have a Flex class. We also provide social services, an onsite school psychologist. Villa Maria counseling, and have our grade level guidance counselors who reach out to students daily. We make sure that each student has their counselor's google classroom available to them so that they can reach out whenever needed. Specific students are also selected to participate in Check and Connect which is a mentoring program between student and staff. Furthermore, the YES program is involved with many of our students to mentor and to provide services. Each week teachers also meet to discuss specific student academic and emotional needs so that we are meeting the needs of all our students.

Central Middle School

The attendance committee has worked to secure backpacks for students with supplies they need such as alarm clocks, head phones, pencils, and make it into a “Wellness Garden”. Staff have been invited to join a staff member’s team through Athletes Serving Athletes (ASA) to runwalk/crawl a 5k and donate to the cause. Staff can nominate each other for the Most Intriguing Award each month following our MARLEY acronym (motivate, articulate, relate, lead & learn, engage, and yet).

Crenk Middle School

PBIS has planned for a fun recess and reward for our hybrid students in the building. Students are given journal prompts and coloring pages to do off screen activities. Students are also going to have a movie day reward.

Lincoln Middle School

Community Meeting: Each month, a grade level hosts a community meeting for each grade band. For the spring, our Hoops for the Heart committee is planning an event for the students at CMS. Our PBIS program has been working very hard to send positive referrals home to students.

<td>Wellness Wednesday, final timing of the Mile Run. P.E. Committee has provided students multiple P.E. incentives. Teachers have been using positive notes and prizes for students. Certain items have been delivered directly to the student's house by a member of the Behavior Support Team. Student wellness and self-care activities have been imbedded directly to our Community Building Circles. Students have participated in meditation and wellness of self activities during advisory, student wellness, and tools for success. One of our school counselors holds a daily meditation class in which she provides meditation and yoga to our students. The P.E. and Health curriculum focuses on healthy eating and exercise habits during the pandemic. We have had 5 Pop-Up Pantries (6th is happening April 21st). The Pop-Up Pantries have been advertised to the whole Meade Cluster and families can drive up to school and they are provided healthy produce, dairy, meat, and non-perishable items. Additionally, members of our Behavior Support Team have partnered with a local church. Every Friday, they deliver weekly food baskets and boxes to 20 families.</td>

<td>Virtual staff shout outs. Staff is provided a link to fill out a &quot;shout out&quot; (positive note) to be placed in a catalogue and each &quot;shout out&quot; is entered into a drawing at each faculty meeting in which the staff member can be drawn for a prize. - Freewie Fridays: Each Friday the admin. team sets up a &quot;treat&quot; of some sort in the media center for staff to enjoy during the mid-day break (To date we have had: a candy bar, a java shop, movie theater popcorn, breakfast treats...upcoming we have root bear floats, cookies and milk, and chips/salsa for Cinco de Mayo) - Out PTSA is helping us to collect gifts for each teacher for teacher appreciation week. - Lunch with a View. We have set up an outdoor seating area for staff to enjoy lunch outdoors if they choose. - Staff Yoga: Our media specialist is a trained Yoga Instructor and will lead our staff in an outdoor Yoga session before school this Spring. - Positive Referrals Continue: we continue our tradition of student recognition through positive referrals by using an electronic link to share good news with students. A copy of each student's recognition is also sent to their parent via email. - Lip Sync Battle: Our students created their own videos of themselves lip synching to their favorite song and we played them during a Building Community for a competition. - Everyone Outside: We use our student break and movement time daily to take our students outside for fresh air and activities. Our Team Sports classes are even helping to create obstacles courses using field paint to encourage student movement during our time outside on the break. (We are working to develop an &quot;obstacle course olympics&quot; culminating event. - Walking Wellness: We have a staff member that takes all interested students on a wellness walk around the complex each day during the student break time. Free time outside for 30 minutes each day for hybrid students during the Student Break and Movement time. Free time outside for 30 minutes each day for hybrid students during the Student Break and Movement time. Screen Free lunches ensure student connections are developed and strengthened. Midfulness and Fitness Club still open for attendance. Weekly coping skills lessons and meditations. Students of the Month are shared through the announcements. Community Meeting: Each month, a grade level hosts a community meeting for each grade band (K-2, 3-5, 6-8). During this community meeting, students share good news they would like to tell others in the school and students are recognized for their hard work in our Habits of Excellence from their teachers. Wellness walks and lunch outside in our “outdoor classroom” areas have helped serve for time away from screens for those students who are attending hybrid.</td>
