

#WeekendSpotlight

Computer Science Career & Technical Education

In a field where the lack of formal computing education highly impacts girls and underprivileged groups, the National Center for Women & Information Technology (NCWIT) Award for Aspirations in Computing (AiC) aims to recognize female educators' and students' achievements in computing. The teacher and students below have demonstrated an incredible passion for computing and building a culture that addresses barriers to women's participation in the field.

Aundrea Atwood-Starkey - Southern HS
Maryland Educator Award

Ariana Wright - Old Mill HS
National Award Honorable Mention

Tatianna Lawrence - Meade HS
State Award Winner

Caroline Hopper - Southern HS
Maryland Award Winner

Jaylin Sellman - Southern HS
Maryland Award Winner